- A list of 20 sounds (see below)

- A whiteboard or piece of paper
- A marker
- A few small objects (e.g., toys, blocks, crayons)

Instructions

1. Start by writing the 20 sounds on the whiteboard or paper.
2. Choose a sound and say it aloud.
3. Have your child identify the position of the sound in the word (initial, medial, or final).
4. If your child says the correct position, give them a small object.
5. If your child says the incorrect position, repeat the word and have them try again.
6. Continue playing until your child has identified the position of the sound in all 20 words.

Sounds

Here is a list of 20 sounds that you can use for this game:

- /p/
- /b/
- /t/

Variations

There are many different ways to vary this game to make it more challenging or fun. Here are a few ideas:

- Use different objects for each sound. For example, you could use a toy car for the /k/ sound, a ball for the /b/ sound, and a crayon for the /r/ sound.

- Have your child say the word in a sentence. For example, if you are working on the /p/ sound, you could have your child say the sentence "The cat sat on the mat."
- Have your child make up their own words that contain the sound. For example, if you are working on the /t/ sound, your child could make up the word "tot."

Benefits

This game is a great way to help your child improve their speech and language skills. It can help them to:

- Improve their articulation
- Develop their phonological awareness
- Enhance their auditory processing
- Increase their vocabulary
