César Franck's Panis Angelicus is a beloved choral masterpiece that has been performed and recorded by countless ensembles around the world. The piece is known for its beautiful melody, rich harmonies, and profound lyrics. In this article, we will take a detailed look at the vocal, piano, organ accompaniment, and lyrics of Panis Angelicus, providing a comprehensive understanding of this timeless work.

The Vocal

The vocal line of Panis Angelicus is written for a solo soprano or tenor voice. The melody is soaring and lyrical, with a wide range of notes that span from the low A to the high C. The vocal line is relatively simple to sing, but it requires a singer with good breath control and vocal technique. The lyrics of Panis Angelicus are in Latin, and they tell the story of the Last Supper. The text is full of beautiful imagery and symbolism, and it provides a powerful message of hope and redemption.

The Piano Accompaniment

The piano accompaniment in Panis Angelicus is lush and supportive. The pianist plays a series of broken chords that provide a harmonic foundation for the vocal line. The piano also provides a countermelody that adds interest and depth to the texture. The piano accompaniment is relatively easy to play, but it requires a pianist with a good sense of rhythm and touch.

The Organ Accompaniment

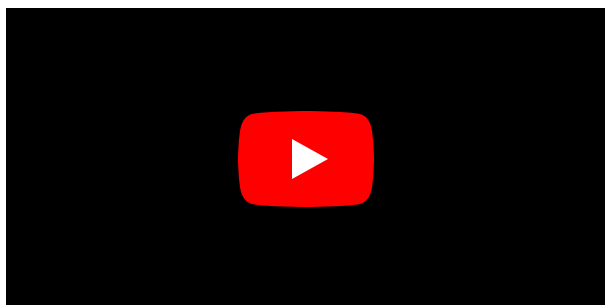

The organ accompaniment in Panis Angelicus is optional, but it can add a great deal of richness and depth to the piece. The organ plays a series of sustained chords that provide a sonorous foundation for the vocal and piano parts. The organ also provides a countermelody that adds interest and complexity to the texture. The organ accompaniment is relatively easy to play, but it requires an organist with a good sense of registration and touch.

The Lyrics

The lyrics of Panis Angelicus are in Latin, and they tell the story of the Last Supper. The text is full of beautiful imagery and symbolism, and it provides a powerful message of hope and redemption. The lyrics are as follows:

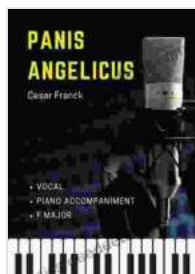

Panis angelicus fit panis hominum; dat panis coelicus figuris terminum.
