Solid Body

The Berkeley Sensation's solid body is made of alder, which is a lightweight and resonant wood. This gives the guitar a bright and lively sound, with plenty of sustain. The solid body also helps to reduce feedback, making it a good choice for playing in loud environments.

Traditional Single-Coil Pickup Configuration

The Berkeley Sensation features a traditional single-coil pickup configuration, with one pickup in the neck position and one in the bridge position. This pickup configuration gives the guitar a wide range of tones, from bright and twangy to warm and mellow. The single-coil pickups are also very responsive to playing dynamics, so you can get a lot of different sounds by varying your picking attack.

Comfortable Playing Feel

The Berkeley Sensation has a comfortable playing feel, with a contoured body that fits snugly against your body. The neck is made of maple, which is a smooth and fast-playing wood. The fretboard is made of rosewood, which provides a warm and mellow sound. The guitar also features a tremolo bridge, which allows you to add vibrato to your playing.

The Berkeley Sensation electric guitar is a great choice for beginners and experienced players alike. It features a solid body, a traditional single-coil pickup configuration, and a comfortable playing feel. Whether you're just starting out or you're a seasoned pro, the Berkeley Sensation is sure to impress.
