The 12 days of Christmas are the 12 days that separate Christmas Day on December 25 and end on January 5, with the last day being Epiphany, which is celebrated January 6. Depending on the Church, January 6 may mark the end of the Christmas season. In the Catholic tradition, the day that the wise men (or the Magi) visited Jesus with their gifts. The Day of Epiphany is when the Church celebrates the revelation of Christ as the King of the world and recalls the journey of the Magi. Many people still miss, from 1558 until 1829 Roman Catholics in England were not allowed to practice their faith openly. During that era someone wrote 'The Twelve Days of Christmas' as a kind of secret catechism that could be sung in public without fear of persecution. Keeping out two levels of interpretation. The first is the obvious meaning for a hidden meaning known only to members of the church. The second is the third is a code word for a religious reality. Some people believe that the day after Christmas started the 12 Days of Christmas. The other way some people think is the 12 days that lead up to Christmas. But really, it starts on December 25, that is the first day.
